DOLE RESEARCH

Dole's commitment to researching and communicating the nutritional benefits of its products is what sets Dole apart from its competitors.

Around the globe, Dole employs over 40 senior scientists, including approximately 30 Ph.D.s, in disciplines ranging from soil science and agronomy to chemistry and genetics. Dole's scientists have developed advanced, environmentally aware, sustainable practices in irrigation, pest control and organic farming.

The years of experience and diverse backgrounds of Dole's scientific team bring creativity and methodology to developing the finest quality produce, packaged foods and flowers. This enables Dole to bring quality, safety and value to the consumer.

Upper left: Dole continually strives to bring consumers the finest quality products.
